Invitation
4th International Congress
Online Conference November 10-12, 2020
Academic Workshops & International Lectures

DIGITAL TRUST & INTUITION @ the Workplace

We are delighted to invite you to our 4th International Service Management Congress at Ostfalia University, Campus Suderburg in cooperation with University de Chile, Warsaw University of Life Sciences, University of the Philippines and Silliman University. It is a congress with Academic Research Workshops and International Lectures. The aim is to bring together professors, researchers and students around the world for international knowledge exchange, global research team building, publishing research papers, and publishing a conference paper.

You are invited as a speaker and contributor to this conference. The Workshops and International Lectures will be held online and archived. You will be part of a global team of presenters from Asia, Europe, Africa, the USA, and Latin America.

Special topic is DIGITAL TRUST & INTUITION @ the Workplace. This is based on the two research projects “Digital Trust & Teamwork (DigVert)” and “Intuition (RHIA)” financed by the European Union and the State of Lower Saxony. The conference will be financed by the Faculty of Trade & Social Science (H) of Ostfalia University of Applied Sciences.

More information about previous Service Management Congresses you will find here: https://www.ostfalia.de/cms/en/pws/launer/events/

November 10, 2020: Specialty Track

This track is for research specialists and statistical experts in information systems technology and business psychology. The first research results of the Pre-Test and Main Study will be presented. Understanding cognitive processes is a critical component to the successful design, implementation, and use of information systems. The questions of interest relevant to this track can involve business psychology perspectives and IS problems in terms of the processes of knowing and making decisions. We welcome qualitative, quantitative, experimental, and case study research and research-in-progress.

November 11, 2020: Cross-Cultural Track

This track is for all researchers analyzing single countries and two or more countries, taking a cross-cultural analysis. We will have discussions on various countries and regions. Topics may come from any area of business and informatics including, but not limited to:

- All aspects of cross-cultural consumer behavior
- Comparative marketing studies (e.g., advertising/communication strategies, branding, organizational buyer behavior, services, marketing relationships)
- Comparative management practices (e.g., industrial relations, human resource management, organizational behavior)
- Comparative business studies (e.g., international strategy, accounting, operations, supply chain management, finance, law, ethics and business communications)
- Cross-cultural theory and research methods.

November 12, 2020: Paper Development Track & Students Contributions

This track is a workshop to support researchers in developing as well as submitting academic papers in journals. The Facilitators are experienced associate editors of management journals. The workshop is intended for early-career scholars and Ph.D. applicants, who want to make the next step and publish.

Students are encouraged to present singly or in groups.

Interactive Formats and Special Features

Acts and Designers submitting special interactive formats, videos and other artistic contributions will be placed in between the program as it fits.

Hosting Universities

Ostfalia University of Applied Sciences, Germany

With about 13,000 students, twelve faculties and 21 departments, Ostfalia counts among the biggest universities of applied sciences in Lower Saxony. As a state institution of higher education, it is represented by personnel of around 900, including more than 200 professors, at its Salzgitter, Suderburg, Wolfenbüttel, and Wolfsburg branches. Ostfalia also features seven associated institutes. The hosting branch Campus Suderburg is 150 years old. Web: www.ostfalia.de/cms/en/

Silliman University, Philippines

Silliman University is home to over 10,000 students. Of this number, around 300 are international from 53 countries across the globe. The University is an ideal choice for students in search of the best of a laid-back environment located within the progressive and safe University Town of Dumaguete. Nature is at its best on Silliman’s 62-hectare campus. Over 300 age-old acacia trees dot the sprawling campus that is cradled with views of the Bohol Sea to its east and the Cuernos de Negros Mountains to its west. Web: http://su.edu.ph/

University of the Philippines Open University (OPOU)

Established in 1995, the University of the Philippines – Open University (UPOU) pioneered in online teaching and learning and continues to play a leading role in the study and practice of open learning and distance education. UPOU is envisioned as a leader in teaching and learning in the digital age, helping to equip Filipinos with the knowledge and skills they need for life and work in the 21st century. Our mission is to provide Filipinos everywhere access to quality higher education through innovative methods of teaching. Web: https://www.upou.edu.ph/home/

University de Chile

The Universidad de Chile’s first ‘School of Commerce and Industrial Economy’ – the precursor of today’s School of Economics and Business – was created in 1934. The School was originally staffed by senior academics drawn from more established schools within the University. A group of scholars would be responsible for training Chile’s first generation of professionals in this area. The School continues, through to the present day, to contribute to the progress of the country through its prolific research output, leading contribution to public debate, teaching, and training of professionals to the highest national and international standards.
